Description: Webdata Pro is the relational version of Webdata with a MySQL backend. Webdata Pro requires no programming experience or skills to administrate. Webdata Pro's web interface provides the administrator a point-and-click path through: building tables; designing search pages, reports and forms; managing records; and defining member accounts. Webdata Pro has a built-in shopping cart, and can easily import data from other programs and upload images or documents through the browser. The program has powerful member privileges, allowing the administrator to control each member's access to the data. Calculation fields such as SUM, AVG, COUNT, ESCAPE, IF-ELSE, and more are offered through Webdata Pro. The software creates complex JOIN queries automatically. The admin just selects the fields and Webdata Pro does the rest. Individually customized reports and forms can be generated using any HTML editor.
