The best shopping cart I have come across. Allows my clients to manage the entire cart with their web browser, along with a very easy to use admin interface. Plus, they were able to customize it to fit my clients specs. The customer order history and customer database is the best. Best value by far.

digishop really hit the nail on the head for me. Overall a great shop with all sorts of features. A real plus was that it has great phone support team, plus it isn't just an OSCommerce spawn like some other carts. They performed some intense customizations for my client and hit it out of the park. Couldn't be happier.

For the price it really doesn't have all the features you would expect it to have. If you need minimal features its great but its missing things that any ecommerce enables site would need to function. If it was about 1/3 the price it would be worth it.

We launched our ecommerce site with digishop about 1 year ago and I can say for sure without the Sum Effect team and digishop we would not be where we are today. They were very experienced and provided great direction with some customization I added. They were always available on the phone and had a very friendly and professional support staff. If I could, I would give them 10 stars out of 5.

After comparing sunshop, x-cart, and squirrel cart, what sealed the deal was the support team of digishop, both before I bought and after.

I also like that they update their software every two weeks with new features, to keep it growing with my business as it grows. The free installation and wizards helped me implement my design no problem. If you can't figure out digishop you don't belong in a web business, cause it's so freakin easy. A++++ ALL AROUND!!!

I haven't been able to keep up with the hits that I have gotten for my site using DigiSHOP's SEO. The admin pages are so easy to manipulate and the reports are awesome. This is by far the easiest e-commerce shopping cart I could have asked for. And the best part is they constantly update and I can add features without having lose any of my existing customer data or design. Great job and good show!

Good basic cart...till you look under the hood, Jun 28th, 2006

On the surface, this cart seems to be a good choice but it lacks many features found in other carts and those features it does have are poorly implemented. The code underneath is also very poorly planned with more 'includes' than I can count. Templates are OK but they can sometimes be a little tricky. Overall I would say shop around and be sure to give the online demo a thorough comparison with other carts before you buy. Given my experience with the product, I would not buy it again.

I'm told it did work, but it was never fully tested as on day 31 after my purchase, they came out with an upgrade. When I called about this, I was told that their policy was free upgrades if the r

I found there is a reason that digishop is so cheap. It's because the software isn't really complete. If you look through the code, nearly every file has a comment labelled 'TODO'. Obviously there are still glitches or problems. One comment even said 'but it's good enough for guvmt work.'. Very unprofessional! Their customer support is also very slow. Plus they offer discounts, just to void any refunds. Installation is also a pain in the ass. Live support is a lie too. Don't buy this!!!

Although the features of the shopping cart seemed quite useful and comprehensive, we decided to take their 30 day trial. Meanwhile we requested quotes on modifications but since these came to over $1400, using this shopping cart seemed a rather expensive option so we requested a refund - still within the 30 days. Despite 3 e-mails to the company, we have received no response and still not received our refund. We would suggest great caution with payments to this company.
