I have been using phpcollab from its inception, and keep being impressed, its very useful, and updates are a breeze, which makes it easy to keep up with each version. They started as a clone of sitespring, but since sitespring is down the drain now, phpcollab has the makings of a serious app specifically for web designers etc.

Very promising and excellent application!, Aug 2nd, 2002

This must be THE best groupware application I've found so far. I think my search is finally over as it is well written and easy for us to extend for future needs. Overall program installs in a snap.

Really great!, Mar 23rd, 2002

I have installed numerous groupware clients and until I found PHPCollab, nothing seemed to really do the job. PHPCollab is a perfect tool if you are trying to collaborate between both clients and internal employees. For anyone in the web design business, this is definitely a needed tool. If you have ever used SiteSpring before, then you appreciate the fact that PHPCollab is free! GRAB IT NOW!
