

HotScripts
<http://www.hotscripts.com>  COM

Remote Scripting With JavaScript and ASP

Hits: 1,491

Description: Remote scripting is an extremely powerful feature available in both Netscape Navigator and Internet Explorer. It allows us to use a combination of scripting languages to call server side ASP code from the client using JavaScript. This article shows us how to install remote scripting as well as two examples of using it to interact with ASP scripts using client-side JavaScript code.

Resource Specifications

Date Added:	Mar 14th, 2002
Last Updated:	Aug 27th, 2003

Average Visitor Rating:  3.33 (out of 5)

Number of Ratings: 3 Votes

Average Member Rating:  0.00 (out of 5)

Number of Reviews: 0 Reviews

Other Links by This Member

Using ASP.NET Code-Behind Without Visual Studio.NET

A Practical Comparison of ADO and ADO.NET

Building XML Web Services Using C# and ASP.NET

Generating Text Images on the Fly with ASP.NET

Integrating ASP.NET XML Web Services with Classic ASP Applications

Wielding the Power of the DataView

MS Access: Tables, Views and Procedures

Stacked Bar Chart

Remote Scripting With JavaScript and ASP

Creating a Members Area in ASP

