Users Online

Hits: 1,583

Description: Users online is a script which gives you the ability to display 'there are currently X users online' on your webpage, as well as providing the current page of all users on your site. View which page users are on, which pages they've visited and how long they've been on your site. An audio alert is played every time someone new hits your site - so the page can be left minimised and brought up when someone enters. Script also shows the ip address of the user, as well as the referring url. A great way to see where your visitors are coming from, and their path through your site. Uses SSI.
