It's unbelievable how these people limited this script to only work with Ming. This is like a car dealer that only carried one model on his lot. They should have made it to where if Ming wasn't available it could use some other program. I gave this script a rating of LOW for it not being more universal. This shows a lot of downloads but truth be known, only a few have been able to use the script. Most simply delete it and move on. I'm deleting it too, but warning others - don't waste your time.
