Great Javascript date time generator, Feb 7th, 2005

Reviewed By: mary@2coolbaby.com

This is a really great javascript generator for date & time. I needed something that would let customers know what MY current time was so that they could be sure to call during business hours. I do International business so I have had calls from people at 4 am not realizing what time it was here! This script allowed me to configure everything & I could choose to have in my page, browser bar & title bar or any of the 3. You can configure the time zone you want to use. Your day & date format is completely configurable. The best part is you just choose what you want and the code is produced for you. No code editing involved! Loved it!
