CCleague Pro

Hits: 21,894

Description: Developed because I could not find a good working online soccer league, CCleague could be customized to suit other sports. Features include: multiple divisions, Administrator user that can set permissions for other users, Division Administrators that can control their own division, Regular Users (usually team captains) can either update their whole schedule or just scores (depends on what permissions the Administrator gives), ability to post league announcements and much more. I also have developed CCleague HS for Texas high school sports.

This is an easy to use script. It can be altered to suit your existing layout and is so easy to manage. Been looking for a similar script for ages and been quoted in excess of $200+. An this is free!

I drool over scripts that people make and have tinkered with so many on this site. I have yet to see one that is as clean and easy to set up as this one. The whole interface is there for your league including website news, events, etc. It is easy to add to and professional all around. A+ to you for your work.
