Im a Toplist fan and have always loved the idea and concept of toplists. I tried over 20 different toplist types, in different formats and coding.

But after trying the demo of MTL, I was in love with it. All the functions, the design, the speed of the toplist and the most amazing thing: the skinning system. You get total control of every aspect of the site.

Monster Top List is totally amazing and it's very cheap to.

Beware in buying this script!

#1 very poor support, They take days to get back to you even if you PAID for the script and support is offered in the PAID version.

#2 Script can be glitchy such as this past weekend I was gone I come back and not one site is showing up on the list. I could see them in the data base though. I sent in a ticket for support. Still no answer and I'm sure it will be DAYS again before they answer. So be warned buyer beware.

We responded to both support requests by Princessmandy in a reasonable amount of time. Unfortunately, this user does not check their email OR the support ticket they opened OR the thread that they posted in the help forums. We can't help if they don't respond to the many areas of support we offer.

Very poor support and it seems to me if you buy a commercial script you would get much better support. At one time this script had a great community of user's through out the years as the MTL community grew, but now the greedy owner does not give a crap. I've yet been able to get the script to work. The script is great, but to bad for us new users the new company does not know what they are doing. They make you pay for support which is absolutely absurd. The script is great, but to bad for us new users the new company does not know what they are doing. They make you pay for support which is absolutely absurd. This makes no sense at all, since their user manual is useless and very incomplete. Do not send any support tickets because you will never get a response.

Unfortunately I have to deal with it. Every time I install it I must go through sources and fix bugs the developers left to make it work because some functionality just doesn't work. It looks like they never tested their script. Admin permissions don't work, site editing doesn't work.

Just open any source file and look at it. There are commented pieces of code and debug info everywhere. I would be ashamed even to show such product to somebody, and they are selling it.

For those thinking of buying this script think again, its been so long since it was updated the script has numerous security holes, I have just finished patching mine yet again. Thats the 4th piece of rogue code in 3 weeks. It used to be a good script but in its current condition its just really awful. Look for another script, dont waste your money on this.

I bought this before reading these reviews. Part of the script was corrupted so I was sent another .php file but I couldn't get the script to work - votes do not count in and the voting link doesn't work. Shame as it looked a really nice topsite to use. I started off getting support but now I've had none in over two weeks and my script still does not work. Waste of money!
