ZZ:FlashChat

Hits: 27,705

Description: ZZ:FlashChat is a simple PHP/MySQL-based Chat Program with Flash interface. The advantage of using flash is that no annoying page refreshes are required for it to work. For installation you must have webspace with PHP and a MySQL database. The client needs the Flash-Plugin. ZZ:FlashChat was designed for easy installation, easy use and especially easy customization, which should give the user a well functioning chat engine with possibility to adjust the interface to his needs.

Features: admin-function, private messaging (whispering), openingtime-management, autolink, etc.

For those of you with little time to waste who don't want to mess with php code or mysql databases this is the chat application for you! It was as simple as uploading the files and giving the installation script your database information and it was up and running. This chat app is a simple no-bull script that won't take up tons of space but still allows a moderator to boot or ban users. The only problem I had to get it working on my system is I had to change all of the <? to <?php in the scripts
