Description: Ektron CMS300, a full-featured XML content management solution, lets users author XML and HTML Web content. It strictly enforces content and page layout, delivers content to multiple devices, offers Active Directory and load balancing support, and shares XML content across B2B transactions. Offers robust content management functionality, advanced XML authoring, XML schema validation, and quick integration. Among many of its cool features, one is now able to predefine a web form to send content as email, keep track and display all events and activities on a calendar style and edit images directly through a web browser by performing more than 20 popular image editing tasks and reducing the need for working offline. Runs on the Microsoft ASP, ASP.NET, PHP, and Macromedia ColdFusion platforms (within a Microsoft server environment).
