Description: album.pl allows you to browse a directory tree and display all the images in it through a customizable web based interface. Any new images added are automatically displayed in the photo album.

album.pl can integrate with many forums such as UBB, SMF, etc to share users and passwords. Even cookies from these forums are used. Users can be permitted to upload photos directly into your photo album, if you wish.

By using string tables, templates and style sheets, album.pl has been designed to be customizable in every way.

You can also add descriptions to any file or directory to make it look more professional, run slide shows, generate static HTML for burning on to a CD-ROM and view thumbnails, edit, delete, move, configure and more.
