NukeStyles Contact Plus Module

Hits: 2,412

Description: With our new Contact Plus Module for Nuke 6.0, you will be able to give your visitors or customers a contact form with specific departments and corresponding email addresses. You can also configure the module to show your address and location of your business/residence with up to four phone numbers. This helps visitors or customers to easily find your contact information, which in turn helps to keep them coming back.

The form itself detects errors for all three input fields, so you don't get blank emails. The module is controlled easily through the administration area, so no configuring files! It also automatically adds the user's name & email if registered.
