"The program is browser based, and very well documented; there are numerous help files including a step-by-step guide to using the software and the menu, and a host of examples to inspire you or help you troubleshoot. It is very easy to use and after playing around with it for just five minutes I had a web page with a basic two-dimensional navigation menu linking to other pages on it. What could be easier? My initial test menu fell far short of the limit of the capabilities that this program can offer you.

"It is beautifully laid out and lets you customize everything from the color
