The installation manual only describes local installation not on remote server. There no support provided what so ever. If you google search for installation tutorial you will be lost by different ways on installation for diff version.

As a DNN user for more than 18 months, I can heartily recommend this web app to anyone wanting to provide a flexible, dynamic website to their users. Setup (installatino) still requires some know-how but that's improving. The next release (November 1, 2004) will be 3.0 and I'm very excited!
