Code4Design Content Management System

Hits: 2,624

Description: As of this post there are 678 PHP CMS systems on Hotscripts, everything from open source to proprietary. What makes ours different and worth paying for? We support you as a developer and as a businessperson. We've been focusing for years on the specific market of professional web developers who need to develop complex sites while keeping tech costs down to stay competitive. The Code4Design CMS gives the website developer the power of a database-enabled site, while keeping editing simple and visual for the developer's client. Our templating system is the easiest of any database-driven CMS, while still allowing full access to PHP if you want it. You own the software and can host with us or install elsewhere. You get a year of unlimited, professional, responsive support, a year of upgrades, complete rebranding, optional integrated Shopping and Email Marketing (extra cost), plus extensive demoing for you and prospective clients to help you win more projects. Volume discounts available.
