Description: Mine The Web is a powerful content retrieval system. You can create spiders to grab content and information from other sites and store it in your own database. Mine The Web is the ultimate solution for grabbing data from dynamic and static web sites. Grabbed data can be formatted, parsed and stored in a database of your choice and in a format that you specify. Mine The Web makes data fetching a breeze as it does not require the source data to be in XML format. Examples of use include obtaining breaking news, weather reports, movie listings, traffic reports, stock quotes, product databases, current betting odds, and much more.
