This script is very like to my first dating software. Spent about one week skinning this script. Extremely hard work. I don't know why do you call that 'templates' - it would be easier to skin pure PHP files without templates. Actually skinning that script is a bit easier than making a dating software from scratch. It is not worth $700, it worth $100 maximum. You can use this script if you need very basic site. If you want advanced dating site, find someone who can make it.

Terrible!, Mar 23rd, 2006

As others have said, AeDating looks good from the outside with their features, but the scripts are full of bugs. The company ignores all emails and to be honest if they were in the US I would be suing them. Not only did I pay $690 for the program, I also paid them another $500 to transfer my database. After they got the $$ they refused to respond and blocked me from their forum. STAY AWAY!

There has never been a buge free version yet. Any reported bugs are never fixed yet their own sites are error free. In my instance things did work and a few bugs to fix, they went to my site and made a mess of everything. They were told to simply stay out. I had to do thier work and fix everything all over again. Also changed my site access because as soon as I fixed it all up lots of little problems started happening that crippled the site - and I did nothing to the site - just 'happened'.

I have tested demo version of this script and wanna say that the script was upgraded, even improved and now contains the multiple number of new features - 14 design templates, supports 11 payment providers, customized unlimited membership levels. You will not have to know HTML and PHP to manage your site. Good job, keep going on improvement guys!

Update I have been waiting 3 weeks for AED _ Boonex to reply to a simple message. It appears they do not know their own code. They blame problem on browser or pop up blockers, which are not on + others have same problem with site.

Totally disgusted with service and lack of support. If anyone wants to waste their money just sign up? I might suggest trying to e-mail presales + support to prove bad response. A company is made on Customer Service this one just does not seem to be there?
