

HotScripts
<http://www.hotscripts.com>  .COM

Simple Java Applet Control

Hits: 1,247

Description: Netscape's LiveConnect feature allows JavaScript to control Java applets by means of their public methods. This example shows a simple applet, the Chameleon Bar being controlled by JavaScript. You can start and stop the applet, display information about it, and even change the speed at which it switches colors.

Resource Specifications

Price:	Free
Date Added:	Sep 28th, 1999
Last Updated:	Sep 28th, 1999

Average Visitor Rating:  5.00 (out of 5)

Number of Ratings: 1 Votes

Average Member Rating:  0.00 (out of 5)

Number of Reviews: 0 Reviews

Other Links by This Member

Java Runtime Problems

Kai Button

Thumbshow

Button Info Panel

Button Overkill

Simple Java Applet Control

Navigation Menu

raingod: Random Images

Random URLs

Random Strings

raingod: Browser Properties

Coping with Browser Differences

raingod JavaScript raingod: Perl

Debugging CGI Scripts

User Info

