Awsome script with superb customer support, Jan 16th, 2004

I usually don't write reviews for scripts that I purchase but due to the absolutely incredible level of customer support that was provided during the setup of this autoresponder, I thought I'd make an exception.

The autoresponder itself works great which says a lot considering that the couple others I tried never worked at all. It has an incredible amount of depth and configurability and the vendor provides excellent customer support.

I totally recommend this autoresponder to anyone!!!

This is a great system that works well.

I am a very satisfied customer.

I like the fact that you can send your own 'HTML' responses and that the whole program sits on your own server.

(a nice editor too!)On top of that, the customer support is top notch. IMHO- It's one of the wisest $47 our company has ever spent. This ASP system is smooth and quick. You won't regret it.... A Completely satisfied customer. Thanks EmailMover.... You've helped my small business a great deal.

Exceptional choice; Enterprise features, Jan 30th, 2005

I was looking for a sequential auto-responder to complement our newsletter software. EmailMover is the optimal choice for following up on people who visit our web site for follow up information. Then, each user gets their own follow up sequence based on when they responded. Our e-mail newsletter software is good for broadsweeping announcements, but EMailMover is proving itself as the excellent complement to general newsletters. I expected this EMailMover to be in the $300 price range consider its feature set.
