Personal Email Tracking with certified, self-destructing & retractable mail

Hits: 1,455

Description: ReadNotify (a client/server e-mail tracker system) tells you when, & where (physical location) your email gets opened, how long it's read, & whether or not it's forwarded, printed, saved. Return Receipts delivered via SMS, ICQ, AIM, Yahoo MSN Messenger, Email, Web, and/or pager. You can also certify, secure, retract, self-destruct, print&forward-block, & language-translate emails. Our scripts work with all email clients & webmail services. Serverside scripts require a dedicated Unix server (POA)

I haven't tried this service and don't intend to (to my mind, such services have serious privacy and similar implications; for instance, search the EmailDiscussions forums for "ReadNotify", "return receipt" or similar terms), but it is sufficient to note that the claim "Our scripts work with all email clients" is in fact a contradiction in terms; no scripts of any nature work with any properly-secure email client, such as Pegasus Mail...

If they're brazenly making such an obviously false claim as this, it doesn't say much for the quality of their product.
