By far the easiest, and best email program I have ever used. Service & support that you won't believe. Just create the form, fill out a few lines on a questionnaire setup form. It generates 2 lines of code to insert into your form. Brain Dead simple. If you can't do it, they will do it for you. It's that simple. All this for only $19.95? These guys don't charge enough money for their product & service.

Kmita Mail is very cool and very useful, but it is the Customer Service and Tech Support that really makes this product shine. I would recommend Kmita Mail to absolutely anyone who needs an easy solution for PHP and/or ASP Form Processing. Their software is easy-to-use -- even if you've never done anything that is PHP/ASP based.

I had a couple of requests (from website design clients of mine) to make some alterations in the PHP coding/programming so we could have things a little bit different than was provided with the purchase-version of Kmita Mail. Since I had no idea how to do this without messing things up, I contacted Kmita Mail Tech Support. They actually took care of adjusting the PHP coding for me and emailed me the new versions of THEIR program at no extra charge. Now that is service above and beyond the call of duty... Thanks Kmita Mail!

Highly Recommended!!

Bought this product and they never sent me a username and password and will not respond to any emails, this is the 3rd company this has tried to rip me off, here are all 3.

1:)MitriDAT's- Form mail- after they process your CreditCard they send you a link to a corrupted file to download, and then never answer emails.

2:)Kmita- Kmita Mail V2 take your money and then say they will send you a username and password, which never gets sent.

3:)Allibus- Goodluck getting it to work.

The script is extremely insecure and it is not possible to install the script at a secure webserver (savemode off or restriction to 777 directories). Maybe that is the reason, why there is no demo version für download available... ;(

Unbelievable service! The script allowed me to fix a major problem for a clients site with a badly written shopping cart that comes with no way to find out what customers ordered from your site. This mail script sent the form data that other programs did not recognize as a form to email in plain text. The technicians installed it for me worked on it until it was fixed and all for just cost of program $25 what a deal!!!! Simba Roars!

I was very dissapointed with the script and service. The script did not work for me, the documentation was very poor on how to use the script. They advertise that it is an easy to use script but I could not get it to work on my custom forms. I emailed for support which was not replied to. They advertise a 100% money back Guarantee which I asked for and have never heard of them since. Lots of headaches and no support.

Conditions in the form can be set into 6 ways.

autoresponder and attachment features work very fine.

Kmita Mail V3 is encoded, Jul 24th, 2007

I bought 2 KM scripts from Kmita for my websites. Version 1 and version 2. Version 1 and 2 run fine but I received a lot of spam. Version 3 is supposed to fix the spam problem.

Kmita mail just installed V3 for me right now but I have to desintall it. Why ? Because the script is all encoded and I don't like it. I have to know what is installed on my websites and what the the code do exactly. It is a question of security.

I am looking for an open code script.

I am completely hopeless at setting up forms having struggled for hours with other options for hours and usually without success. On a new web site I am building, I wanted a more complex form allowing for uploads and required items getting people to certify that they had read the terms & conditions. Although I basically gave up trying to do it myself Kmita support staff did the whole thing for me and it works perfectly. Definitely worth $29 just to save all that stress.

Great little app, Sep 24th, 2007

This is a great little app for non programers. It is super easy to implement. I have V.2 and V.3 looks like it offers a few nice extras, like CAPTCHA, and some templates. The support about a year ago left a lot to be desired, but they've definitely kicked it up a notch, and have been very helpful and super fast with my recent email requests(same day turnaround!). It's also worth noting, that the feature I contacted support about looks to be better integrated in V.3.

I had the same problem several other customers have reported: when I returned to the site after paying for Kmita Mail, I was unable to download it. My requests for help were answered immediately, but I didn't receive them because my ISP routed them to my spam file. This has never happened to me before with solicited email. Doesn't it seem like kind of a bad sign if email from the creators of an email program is being treated as spam?
