If any of you know how to reach these people or know of a similar software package can you please let me know? I'm at yesouici@yahoo.com

I have been trying to contact the jobboardsoftware.biz developers for a month, by telephone and using different e-mails addresses and even placing 2 orders online. So far the only response I received was one auto-email stating the gentleman would be out of the country (Serbia) until May 6. If their job board did not match my needs so well I would just drop it.
