Ping IP

Hits: 1,508

Description: Ping IP is an exceptional Internet networking tool that allows a user to ping one, a category, or all IP devices in the database. The user can set the automatic refresh rate to different time intervals. The underlined field headers allow the user to sort on a particular device category. The More Info. field allows the user to add detailed information for each IP device. The admin functions are login and password protected. The admin functions allow the user to add, edit, or delete an IP device through the web. All data is stored in a Microsoft Access database.
