SohoCalendar

Hits: 2,396

Description: SohoCalendar has been implemented in order to provide ASP.NET developers with an easy yet visual way to select date and/or time in web forms and applications. Both inline and popup approaches supported. Transparency, built-in localization and other features in this control.

With SohoCalendar you can:

- define first day of the week
- define output date format
- define calendar size
- define calendar borders
- customize calendar's elements style by using CSS
- images in calendar buttons are supported
- customize calendar's header style: 'buttons' or 'comboboxes'
- show calendar at the separate frame
- set opacity for the calendar
- ability to configure the Calendar through the CSS styles
- inline calendar (layers based) support
