Description: TotalChatrooms v1.0 is an online live chatting system for your website. TotalChatrooms features management and creation of multiple chat rooms that are database driven using MySQL. The chat program uses a very stylish Flash interface and use PHP for a backend system to read and write to the database. The chat application can optionally keep log files of users and conversations for the administrator to keep track of the system. The administrator can create and add chat rooms easily to the system that can be accessed by the general public, or specifically to chat members only.
