Great Script - lousy company, Jul 14th, 2005

Reviewed By: Insiderman

I purchased an install to save me some time. Two weeks later the vendor who now owns the script still claimed he could not install it because my server was broken. I fixed his internal commands and had it working overnight. The software has loads of flexibility and is difficult to crash. Of course, he's taking it off the market in favor of his more expensive hosted software solution.
