Silktide SiteScore

Hits: 558

Description: SiteScore is a free tool which rates how well designed, popular and accessible your website is.

The entire testing process is handled by advanced computer software, which means a test is free and only takes a few seconds. It also means that the test can't analyse how attractive, or how well written the text is - however it can make some clever guesses.

SiteScore rates all websites on a scale of 1-10 (10 being the highest). Scores are broken down into 4 categories; Marketing, Design, Accessibility and Experience.

This is a great tool and a great idea. My site scored really badly but the report gave me some great tips on how to improve my site - now my page rank has gone up in a week and im actually on the first 10 pages in a google result!

I recommend this to any webmaster.

Johnathan.
