A rather untidy photo album

Hits: 8,797

Description: This presentation is a mixture of slide show and image gallery. It looks more like photos spilt from a box onto the tabletop than an album. The script will first determine the size of the user's screen and will open the largest possible window. All the images in the directory are dealt in random sequence onto the screen one after the other in set intervals and distributed over the available space in random order. Users can drag the images with the mouse, shuffle them, play with them. Script uses PHP to generate JavaScript.

All you have to do is upload the file to the directory where your images are situated.
