DT6Software L.L.C. Real Estate Website Hits: 1,628

Description: We have a no web master needed methodology. Our real estate websites use our content management software, meaning zero HTML or programming knowledge needed. Our software users can simply add, remove, and update their website with a click of the mouse. Our software is delivered on a monthly lease. Why is this better and cheaper than unit priced software? First, you do not have to buy a "pro version", like many other companies require to have access to patches and upgrade. Secondly, we are constantly improving, updating, and monitoring our software and its environment. Our upgrades are instantaneous which means you do not have to download and install them. Third, web hosting is included, 300 megs of disk space with 6000 megs of data transfer, our uptime is routinely 100% because we do not place our clients in a shared hosting environment with people using shoddy scripts that often cause server crashes. Lastly is our on-going customer support 24/7 all for a low monthly price of $19.99.
