Don't buy if you require bounce management, Feb 12th, 2007

Reviewed By: Hootie10

Before purchasing this product for our Newsletter Management I had contacted the company several times to ensure that it met our criteria, of which one of the most important was the ability to manage Bounce emails. After installation and running some tests it became clear that the bounce management didn't work - of the 20 'bad' email addresses used to test not one was found, and there is no method to add new bounce rules...what a load of crap! I purchase GroupMail's newsletter manager instead!
