TT - Totally Terrible Experience!, Dec 14th, 2006

Reviewed By: theself

I paid for the script a week ago. I send them multiple emails -- but no one replied. Their phone numbers don't work; can't get no human voice to talk to after repeated attempts. This is NOT acceptable!

Contacted my bank to file a dispute.

You have great Live Chat and support on chat, great website, interesting products, and additional services. You still have updating your products making them better. Trial versions helped me to make decision and buy script.

Terrible Product, Dec 7th, 2007

I had the same experience as the member 'theself' above. Slow responses. After 5 weeks, I still don't have a properly working product. Pilot Group have fixed some of the errors with their software, but there are still more.

They refuse to give a refund stating that they will fix the new problems, but considering a Christmas special offer was supposed to go out 3 weeks ago, this has cost my client lost revenue, and made me look bad to my client.

Purchase at own risk, as you won't get a refund.
