Good for Tiny Site, Sep 6th, 2006

Reviewed By: Wesleyj2006

This cheap script seems good at first, but now it's running very slowly as my site gets more traffic. I discovered that its dynamic database cannot cope with the increased traffic. This seems to be the same problem with all Comdev scripts, as many users have complained. The bottom line is that if you want a script for decorating your site, get Comdev's scripts. If you want a script that grows with your site, then get something else. I'm glad that Hotscripts make it easy to find other scripts.
