This was a great script. I needed something that would fit right into a pre-existing site via iframe, without all the "extras" that other scripts seem to put in there. Integrating it was a cinch. Up and running/fully customized time was less than 1hr.

Easy to configure & integrate, works well. My only complaint is that it doesn't support PNGs.

Nice looking, once you installed GD libraries it's easy to install.

Pitty it doesn't show access to folders though.. the ability to turn an option like this on or off would be a huge plus.
