This program sucks, Jul 4th, 2005

I've bought this datingscript but it is not working the way it's supposed to. Not all the options/texts are being translated which might be handy if you are using multiple languages. I tried to work it out with the people at pilotgroup but they left me hanging and did not fix my problem for three months and it's still not working. I am trying to get a refund as we speak.

I will update this story when there are any changes.

Just try out their own demo online, it's also not working.

So you have been warned

Pilot Group have been nothing short of professional. Not only did they send the product very quickly but spent a long time talking me through it and helping me. I would recommend this company to anyone. Keep up the good work guys.

I want to commend your entire staff and particularly the ones that man your live chat, they are on your front line of customer service issues and have stayed with me until the problem has been solved. I am a HUGE customer service person (that is my business here in the states) and let me tell you that some american companys could certainly learn something from you on how to treat their customers, you have gone over and above to help me with my new service.

I was wrong for that company...

She spoke that chat in flash was an innovation...

That the chat in flash and the updatings justified the price... Lie...

The chat can be found by U$-5,00 in the site <http://www.tufat.com/index.php>.

In the same site (<http://www.tufat.com/index.php>) it can be downloaded of OsDate gratuitously with the sources...

You will see as the sr Sergey did Dating Pro...

They take your money and run!, Feb 23rd, 2006

This is absolutely the worst company I have ever worked with. I don't know what the laws are in the Ukraine, but in the US, if you deliver a buggy product, the least you can do is be honest and refund the purchase. Not this company! They took days to send the software which has horrible documentation and illiterate support, I wasn't even able to install it properly. I am extremely unhappy and feel cheated by this company. Never again am I going with an overseas company to save a buck.

Refund Received!, Mar 10th, 2006

Today I did receive my refund. Although, it did take a long time and I did not think I would receive it, Pilot Group did give a refund. Their customer service was very good when I had the product. Although there were a few things missing from the product, the product was good and the customer service was top notch!

I have had Dating Pro for over 7 months and I have had some issues with the software. If you do not know anything about how to install a site they will install it for you. There live chat is awesome but emailing personally to someone can take a little time.

All in all they are a good company, you made need a little patience if you do not know anything about installing or editing websites. They will work with you and try to explain how to edit but you need to have some common sense to understand.

I've purchased several dating scripts trying to find a good one and this one is at the bottom of the barrel. It was full of bugs, very problematic, and you can forget about any kind of reliable communication with support. There are better scripts for half price and this one was definitely not production-ready when I purchased it.

I just wanted to thank PilotGroup.NET for their excellent product. I can't even begin to tell you how sincere I am when I say that. Before we have purchased Dating Pro Software like everyone else did, we searched the web to see what other products were out there. NONE came close to the power and functionality of Dating Pro! Within a few minutes you can have your web site up and running

I started my dating site some time ago and I must say when I started I didn't know anything about web sites, Pilot Group has worked with me from day one. Arthur & Live Support has also been my support when things have gone wrong and with all my question they have all ways been very proactive in what ever my needs have been. I'll recommend Dating Pro to any one who is looking at starting an online dating site.

Before getting into the dating website arena, I researched many products out there and those people that would be making design changes for me. I hve found this product to be of very high quality and very versatile. I have since used this product to create several dating sites and am actually generating substantial revenue from them now. My main concern was outsourcing the work outside of the USA, but the folks with Dating pro have completely made me feel at ease and are true professional. A+++

I bought a license of Dating PRO, for my dating website. I liked the script since it was far more better than other scripts (until I recently found out about oSDATE which imho is better, and best of all - free) but anyway, for this project I hired their programmer to do custom scripting on their scripting. They charged me around $1khw for the customization, I wasn't happy at all with the customization, they completed only 40% of it, I asked them complete it and asked for another $1k :(bleh
