CWIPanel - Windows Web Hosting Panel Hits: 3,693

Description: CWIPanel is a Windows web hosting control panel that allows three levels of control, Server Admin, Reseller admin, and Customer Admin.

CWIPanel has a wide array of features that are seamlessly built in for the website user, resellers and the administrator. While building our panel we took careful note of what our clients required, and ensured that each feature was built for accuracy, but yet simple to use.

Great Software, Been Using It For A Year Now, Apr 15th, 2005

I've been using Cwipanel on my server for about a year now, and it's an awesome script. It's made my job alot easier in terms of managing my server, and my clients. It has some pretty good features, I especially like the option to have the built in trouble ticketing system, as it saved me from having to buy an add-on script :)

I've received compliments from clients about how easy to use the customer area is, and the features it has, it's also saved me some support work since I no longer have to manually do things for the client, it's all there in the control panel, and they can administer many options on their own now.

Overall, I would recommend it, as the movie critics say, I give it two thumbs up!
