xKiosk 2 - Free Open Source photo Kiosk Software

Hits: 5,338

Description: Every minilab owner at least once in a lifetime runs into overpriced ready-made kiosks when he decides to install one in his lab. And he has to pay thousands for this and though these prices are obviously set too high - he can do nothing with it, because he has no choice.

This project - is an alternative way. xKiosk has intuitively simple and singular interface, needs a regular PC hardware to run, supports all major image formats. Appearance can be fully customized. Multilanguage is also supported Great Solutions. I'm an italian technic of photofishing area and I think this software is a very good start point. It lacks of a cropping and red eye functions; I hope for them in newer release.
