SantryIndexer

Hits: 6,764

Description: SantryIndexer is an index server script used for indexing hard documents on your Web server. Just drop this script into the root of your Website, it will then list all the physical folders located off the root, allowing you to browse the various sub directories. Then using indexing services it will list a summary of the documents contained in the folder. It also supports searching files in the entire Web or just the current folder, paging of records, document type designation.
