Hits: 2,053

Description: PHP:Form is a PHP component that will help you create HTML forms quickly and without much effort. Creating HTML forms, and all the validation code is a common thing in any PHP script, but let's face it, it's a really boring task. Especially all the validation and everything that comes with it. That's why we've developed a, what we believe, unique PHP components that handles all the boring parts for you. PHP:Form supports in-built validators, all you have to do is write a few simple lines of HTML, and that's all. PHP:Form will automatically generate all the client-side (JS) validation for you, and do all the validation on the server-side. You won't never ever have to worry about doing validation again. It's all done for you, by PHP:Form.
