Hits: 8,416

Description: Built2Go offers a fully developed PHP rate my photo system integrated with a variety of well designed web templates for the ultimate in polished appearance and full functionality. The Built2Go Rate My Photo system allows users to exchange private messages, comment on each other's photos, and of course selecting a rating for photos. This photo rating system allows the administrator to rename the categories from Male/Female to other category names, so this system can be used to rate more than just photos of people. Users may also monitor a full statistical breakdown of each photo in their account that has been rated, and may opt out of private messages and comments on their photos. This system also provides a full secure admin area to monitor photo submissions, user accounts, and control a number of options on the website.
