Stiereptile an excellent web site builder !, Nov 29th, 2006

Superb website builder at a very affordable price. The site builder is automatically installed on your site and it is very easy to use it on the admin and customers sides. Different languages are available and it is possible to customize your language as desired.

I only have good words for this site builder. Many templates are available, not cheap templates but really nice templates.

Most of all, the SUPPORT IS EXCELLENT. I strongly recommend this sitebuilder. Roland (netdirection.net)

Great programm, this makes money for hosters and users, Oct 11th, 2006

This is not only a GREAT programm for hosters, but also for users. We offer it as an extra service to our customers, and it is much better than many expensive programmes.

Best of all is that not only the programm is very good (excellent) but also their service. They did a lot of extra's for me and I received a very fast reply (with solutions) for all my questions.

Sitereptile good software but very slow evolution, Jul 27th, 2007

Reviewed By: roland49

I owned a sitereptile licence. My main complain is: the software lost options since i bought it and no more templates added to the sotware, the web site is very static, always showing the same information. Looks like there is no future for the software... but the software is excellent ! But what is an excellent software without future and losing some features. Since i bought the software, I saw absolutely no evolution. Finally, it is really a deception for me.

Very bizarre: stagnant software (script), Jul 20th, 2008

Reviewed By: roland49

Since my last review in july 2007, there is absolutely no evolution about this script. It is very easy for the concepor to mention that there will be a spectacular evolution but... it is only words. If you don't want to loose your money, just stay away from this script. Always the same script... no evolution ... very deceiving ... my greatest fault was to buy the script ????????
