On Budget ... On Time!, Apr 12th, 2006

Our pharmaceutical based company had plenty of motivation, but organizing the development of a new product was new territory. After acquiring Project Soft to control our development process, we can get our hands around all project tasks, who is responsible, the task status, and when it is going to be done. Everyone has their own work queue which helps, as most projects are delegated to multiple persons. Now the board members are happy that our products have been delivered on time and on budget!
