SupportMan

Hits: 962

Description: SupportMan is a simple support request tracking script. It allows for users to submit problems with their hosting accounts and allows administrators to easily see what needs to be done. This script generates unique ticket numbers for each request and allows administration to assign a support tech to each ticket individually, update requests easily, mail request submitter with the actions taken automatically, mail any user in the system from the admin panel easily. System automatically emails submitter with results of their submission.
