V3 Chat - Instant Messenger & Chat Rooms

Hits: 34,723

Description: V3 Chat - Instant Messenger is a 121 instant messenger/private chat script written in PHP/MySQL and designed as a standalone unit (like Yahoo & MSN) or for easy integration into any existing profile system or members based website.

Packed with great features including smilies, advertising, user profiles and photos, file sharing, online/offline status, save conversations, full administration panel and much more!

Powered by the latest ajax technology, the V3 Messenger uses low bandwidth and delivers a fast, flicker free performance. Unlike flash powered chats or java chat applets, no additional plugins or downloads are required before your members can start chatting.

I have bought this software 3 days ago; the support team installed the same day; this program has 100% customizable profile attributes and is full open source. The most customizable Chat script I was able to find on the market -

Don't expect speedy support!, Apr 25th, 2007

After purchasing this script I came to discover that some of the things advertised were not delivered such as the source files for the graphics. (Still waiting on those by the way) Also, some features didn't work after install such as alert sound and file share feature. After I made support request all I got after a day were one liner responses that solved nothing. Don't bother with their Live support either, "nobody's home" if get my meaning. You'd be better off talking to yourself.

WOW, best chat script I have seen and cheap., May 6th, 2007

I brought this script a few days ago and well, talk about impressed, it intergrated into my customer database with no problems at all. Setting up was a breaze, plus the few questions i had to asked to the people over at V3Chat were replied to usaully within 24 hours and with the information i needed to get my erm silly mistakes cleared up.

I would whole heartedly recomend these people to anyone who requires a high end script at a low cost with great support.

Well done V3Chat and thankyou.

Sounds doesn't work and file share doesn't work. Slow support responses and worthless also. Live Support is never on, don't know why they have that on the website!! Seems as if all they want is your money!!

Excellent value for money!, Jun 20th, 2007

Bought this script four days ago. Installed with no problem, chat works but little things like the profile photo will not work correctly. Emailed customer support and have had no response yet and there is never anyone available on their online support system. Definatly would not buy anything from them again.
