Html Slide Show

Hits: 5,491

Description: This programme lets you run a slide show using HTML pages instead of images. It is particularly useful for those wishing to offer a kiosk service. You can add/remove slides via the web interface, while the slide show is running and these slides will be dynamically added/removed to/from the show. The programme is very simple and will run as is with no modification whatsoever, although customisation is very easy.
