I installed this script on my site today and it didn't work. I am not a novice.

So, I went to the provided forum to find answers. It's full of people complaining that they have not received refunds. My heart sunk!

I immediately called Mastercard to have the payment annulled. Not everyone will be so lucky.

I have used PDM now for over 2 months now. I was a little sceptical to try something new at first, but I love it now. Its very easy to use and Adrian helped me every time I needed help with something. I wouldn't use anything else for my website now. ABSOLUTLY PERFECT! Thanks!

The biggest disappointment for me which will stop me from using this is the fact that almost everything it does that the customer sees it shows a link back to their site.

When someone returns to your site from PayPal it looks up their order and at the bottom has a Powered By link. In the email that it sends the user with the link there is also a footer of the email with a link.

I found no mention of this on their site. Script is IonCube encoded so not much can be done about it.
