I switched to AbleDating after having used some other popular script for 2 years. To my mind this software is more interactive then the rest, I mean the guys try to add really interesting features like 3d chat, voice recording etc. Sometimes the support tend to be not too fast, but all of questions and problems are paid attention to.

The software has many great features, but sadly it comes with many great bugs, there support is slowly improving over time, but is still no upp to scratch.

Many errors are minor but there are 2 or 3 major errors that are difficult to explain.

They say its 300 dollars for them to install each upgrade they release.. I asked them for that service about 2 months ago now and it still hasn't been done.

As things currently stand the script is rubbish but should be good after a few upgrades.

There are plenty of customers that have not received their products.

Dont bee fooled by the companys flashy website.

Make a complaint if you have been scammed at <http://www.myspace.com/abledating>

Dont believe what they say on the website

As a recent and unhappy customer of ABK-SOFT, the makers of AbleDating and AbleSpace software, I have documented my technical and customer service experience with them as a warning to other buyers. Unfortunately, it is lengthy so I created a website for the review complete with support documentation:
icongrouphailand.com / abk-softwarewarning.php Thank you. Michael G. Hines

Hi!

In spite of the fact I saw the review by Mr. Hines everywhere on the web (and by the way he seems to be the only one active reviewer, which also seems strange) I decided to purchase this software in October. Well I can not confirm all the horrid facts listed in negative reviews, I got the software immediately, it was installed for me and even the server was set up (I did not have GD LIB2). So I must admit the support is professional. I can do nothing but thank the company.

The software of ABK-Soft is really cool. It's an ideal solution for dating sites. The staff has worked out an ideal software with an ideal price. The main advantage of that software is that you will get back the sum which you have paid for it in a really short time. You will only have to set up your software and it will bring you real money.

They have got a very smart support, which will guide you through the purchase and the post-sale problems solving.

Well I bought this software and before that I contacted 4 people from this site
<http://www.abledatingreview.com/>

They gave me a very good reference of this software, one of them even by the phone. Now I understand that I was right buying this AbleSpace script, because I have never seen anything come close to it. Thank you ABK-Soft and try to hold to this creative air! Your software is the best!

We have had our own community solution with many thousands of subscribers in the comunity.

We provide the service absolutely for free. Only the ads bring us some money back. The solution as it was, was not very satisfactory for us. It needed some refreshments. That was a reason to start working on it.

Like Mr.Hims I experienced the similar story not a true 30-day money back guarantee. Rude customer service and if you just google "able-dating scam" which i should have done myself first you can see for yourself what im talking about in more detail. They(abk-soft)claim its competitors black pr but just not true trust me go somewhere else for any software avoid able-dating. Hotscripts is a place for good companies hope abledating doesnt effect the community.

The best thing about Able Dating script is the 'featureness' of the solution. I mean, where have you seen a script for such a price have 3-dimentional chat, blogs, IRC webchat, video chat!? Most of those who have considered this script a few months ago will find it very different from what it used to be. Of course these features aren't for owners; for members more like. But the more members you have the more money you get, right? Anyway, an 8/10 for the design, and 10/10 for support, and 10/10
