tinyMuw Password Generator

Hits: 1,704

Description: From the developer who brought you tinyMuw CMS comes the tinyMuw Password Generator! Just like the CMS, this utility was fully developed in a combat theater (specifically Baghdad, Iraq by an American Infantryman). This script comes with powerful default character sets and standardized bit lengths, but enables the user to easily create their own character set and specify any password length they wish, allowing for the greatest variety of passwords possible! For the more savvy computer users, the generator itself is small, compact, portable, allowing you to "plug and play" the modular function into your own scripts with ease.

This script is very simple to use and let me set up for the users of my website to use no problem at all! If there were any changes I would ever want, the code is really easy to read and the author makes it clear what all things do. Very good!
