Prefill Google Adsearch box

Hits: 514

Description: Want to help your visitors decide what keywords they should use when searching google via your adsearch box? Then this is the script for you.

Google's terms of service prohibit modifying the code of their adsearch box in anyway. This script allows you to set the value of the search box without modifying the code, thereby keeping you within their terms of service, while allowing you to specify high paying keywords as a guide for your visitors to search on. Of course, they are always able to overwrite this with their own search terms, but some of your visitors will use your suggestions!
