PrestoGifto: Dynamic PHP and JavaScript storefronts and control panel

Hits: 1,567

Description: PrestoGifto is a fun, easy-to-use, web-based tool (built in Ruby on Rails) that helps you put products you want to sell in your website or blog. You pick products you like, arrange them how you want, customize the style and content, then generate a single line of php (or JavaScript). Since PrestoGifto is web-based datafeed front-end, and you embed PHP or JS, you can control everything without ever touching that code again.

You can create as many shops as you want and earn affiliate commissions from merchants like CafePress (they pay 20% commissions).

Features include:

- * Nothing to install...just paste a line of code into your site
- * Statistics (click-thru & page views)
- * Shop dynamically updates
- * Completely customize your look and feel
- * Sell any of the 35 million products from CafePress
- * Write your own content
- * Extremely EASY to use AJAX UI
- * Create as many shops as you want and put them in as many places as you want
- * Plugins for CMS's and blogs
